

Boschhoek Update July 2012

Yes! The Surveyor Plan for Boschhoek has been approved!

This was the last technical hurdle that we needed to cross, putting the final stamp on 5 years of what turned out to be hugely satisfying work.

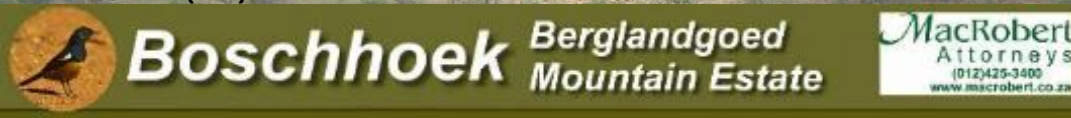

Literally another half-a-handful of sales, and Boschhoek will be ready to fly! Since February, we have been selling a stand every week! If you were still wondering about securing your piece of bush heaven for yourself and generations after you, now is the time. We may need to adjust our prices in time, so take the opportunity. Remember that with the recent change in legislation, Boschhoek may well be the last of its kind!
